

AdoptMyGame List of Accounts

V. Account types and services available

1. There are six types of User Accounts in the Service: a. Developer Account
b. Buyer Account c) Network Holder Account e) Service Provider Account
f) Press Account g) Guest Account
2. For any Account type except the Guest Account, the Basic Services allow all the Users to: a. review and filter all the public information provided in the profiles and games of other Users; b. have their review actions of other games (TAG, HIDE, SEE) saved
3. For Developer and Network Holder Accounts, the Basic Services allow all the Users to: a. upload and display information about their games and profiles; b. contact other Users if they have a completed and updated profile and game(s); c. be contacted by other Users with the proper contact rights
4. For Buyer, Service Provider and Press Accounts, the Basic Services allow the Users to: a. upload information about their profiles; b. contact other Users if they have a completed an updated profile and if the information they provided in the “My Services” section of their profiles matches the one provided in the “My Needs” section of the profile of the User they want to contact.
5. The Guest Account is prepared for Users who wants to use the Service without registration. It offers a limited access to the features and the information available in the Service.